KEY PERFORMANCE INDICATORS (Continued)

Operator Monitoring

We monitored operator calls in accordance with the TSA Code of Practice targets

During 2017/2018 this meant that we assessed 334 calls

When listening to each call the Telecare Manager assesses the call against a set of requirements.

Examples of these requirements include

- Correct greeting, including giving their name
- That the operator has listened carefully to what is required
- That the operator was able to reassure the client
- That the correct outcome was achieved

The results of the monitoring process are then discussed with the operators individually.

TSA AUDIT REPORT

We underwent a Telecare Services Association (TSA) inspection in April 2018 and we are pleased to say that we have retained accreditation to their Code of Practice. This is recognised as the industry standard for Community Alarm and Telecare Services, and requires us to undergo annual independent inspections to ensure we meet its strict code of practice criteria.

We are very pleased that we passed the Code with flying colours, without any infringements or recommendations for improvement.

The auditor has noted

"It is a well-managed service providing monitoring services to c4000 connections. There is a strong leadership and well defined and structured policies, processes and practices. The Key Performance Indicators, confirm that a safe and efficient service is consistently provided"

Meeting the standards of TSA ensures our commitment to provide a quality service to our service users.

Certified Organisation

SERVICE USER INVOLVEMENT

Telecare Services is part of the Social Services Directorate in Caerphilly County Borough Council (CCBC).

CCBC Social Services recognises that involving people and communities is an important factor in the improvement and development of services. We need to take time to listen to the views of the people we are trying to support and reflect those views in any changes we make to our services. People who are involved in our services are 'experts by experience'. They know how it feels to be on the receiving end of our help and they know what would have made their lives easier or better. Conversely when we get it right we have no stronger advocate for the services we provide.

CCBC Social Services carries out service user and stakeholder consultation in many ways, including

Out of 1587 responses we had 15 comments about the service that were negative or required further investigation or action.

- 13 responses were concerned about the charges for the service
- 1 commented about their alarm / telecare equipment. We offered direct assistance and passed the feedback on to the installation team to investigate further.
- 1 commented that they were unhappy with the quality of service in respect of the response made to a particular call. We have investigated this issue and responded.

We received quite a few questions about how the alarm worked including

- What number should I use to contact the monitoring centre?
- Can I wear my pendant in the bath or shower?
- What happens if I fall in the garden?
- Can I practice using the alarm?
- What happens if there is a power cut?
- What happens if my phone line stops working?
- Why does the Careline Operator ask a lot of questions when an ambulance is required?

The answers to these questions are in our FAQ section on page 6

We also received a small number of concerns or queries that did not relate to the Telecare Service. These have been forwarded on to relevant parties.

The majority of the feedback we receive is positive. We had 184 comments complimenting the service. A sample of these comments can be seen below

- I fell in the garden banged my head on a wall & cut my head was bleeding massively the service took over once called contacted 999 informed my son & checked up when we were at A&E to make sure I had got there safely.
- I had a stroke and I pressed my alarm they rang an ambulance and contacted my niece and stayed on phone till my niece arrived
- I have used the alarm on 2 occasions for help when there was a fault on my telephone line and therefore my alarm was disconnected, the instructions I received were most helpful, the staff are always pleasant and easy to converse with.
- Collapsed at home last year. Careline responded straight away by contacting family and ambulance. 5* service provided.
- I have contacted the Careline twice when having asthma attacks. Each time the response was quick, efficient and reassuring. I was particularly grateful that my nephew was informed that I was in hospital.
- I was critically ill, pressed alarm, I lost consciousness, yet the service called 999 and I had immediate assistance.
- Taken ill during the night pressed my alarm button, they responded immediately, took details, my son arrived within 10 minutes, rapid response within 30 minutes. Thank you
- We cannot praise enough the response we had, and feel that the call made to a paramedic who was the first responder did a lot to help my wife who was very ill at the time.
- When my husband was alive and unwell it enabled me to get help from the emergency services and for my family to be called which meant I could stay with my husband to reassure him help was on its way.
- Had severe abdominal /chest pains & difficulties breathing Ambulance arrived approx 10mins. Very good response from Careline & ambulance service

- Regular supervision sessions with staff that include competency testing and development.
- Upgrading the operating system used in the control centre.
- Made the application pack available online through the Council's website

FUTURE SERVICE DIRECTION

- Upgrade the call handling software in the control centre

Equipment Checks / Faults

Don't forget to test your pendant once a month
If you have any concerns about your alarm please contact us

VOICE RECORDING
PLEASE NOTE THAT ALL CALLS TO THE MONITORING RESPONSE CENTRE ARE VOICE RECORDED. RECORDINGS ARE KEPT FOR 2 YEARS.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

The following questions were raised as part of our annual satisfaction survey

If there are any other questions you would like to ask about the service please contact us.

What number should I use to contact the monitoring centre?

If you want to report a fault or have a query about the service please contact us on 029 20865367

Can I wear my pendant in the shower or bath?

Yes, the pendant can be worn in the shower or bath.

Over time body oils can affect the integrity of the pendant. The pendant may deteriorate, usually starting with the button itself, which may then allow water in. Please inspect the pendant from time to time for any signs of deterioration especially before entering a shower or bath and contact us if you have any concerns.

What happens if I fall in the Garden?

The pendant has a typical range of 50 metres from the base unit and should be worn outside the house in the garden.

If we are unable to communicate with you via the base unit we will try your landline first then if there is still not a response we will usually contact your next of kin or the emergency services, depending on your personal circumstances.

Can I practice using the alarm?

We would encourage you to test your pendant every month. When the call connects to the monitoring centre, please tell the operator that you are testing the pendant. If you have any concerns about the equipment please let them know.

What happens if there is a power cut?

When the power to the base unit is disrupted for any reason, for example if it has been turned off or there is a power cut, there is a battery in the base unit, which will ensure that the system keeps working.

When the power has been off for a while, the unit will contact the monitoring centre to let us know about the problem, and then approximately every four hours after that until the battery power runs out or the power is returned. The base unit will alert you to a problem with the power through a message called out over the speaker and / or a light on the unit will flash rapidly. When the unit notifies us of the power failure one of the operators will contact you. Please note that the alarm will not be able to notify us of the problem if there is also a problem with your telephone line.

After any mains failure please test your pendant by pressing the button. When the call connects to the Monitoring Response Centre please let the Operator know you have had a mains failure and are now checking that your alarm works. If the alarm does not work please contact us on 029 20865367

Why does the Careline Operator ask a lot of questions when an ambulance is required?

When we place a call to the ambulance service we are asked a series of questions so they can determine the severity of the issue and prioritise it accordingly. The more information we can give them the better they will be able to prioritise the call. We provide them with the information we get from you, or people with you and relevant information about you that we hold on our database. We will ask these questions as quickly as possible.

SAFEGUARDING ADULTS AT RISK

What is an Adult at Risk?

An Adult At Risk is someone who 'is experiencing or is at risk of abuse or neglect; has needs for care and support (whether or not the authority is meeting any of those needs); and as a result of those needs is unable to protect himself or herself against the abuse or neglect or the risk of it'.

What is 'abuse'?

The Social Services and Well-Being (Wales) Act 2014 states that: "abuse" means physical, sexual, psychological, emotional or financial abuse taking place in any setting, whether in a private dwelling, an institution or any other place

"neglect" means a failure to meet a person's basic physical, emotional, social or psychological needs, which is likely to result in an impairment of the person's well-being.

Abuse can happen anywhere - in a residential or nursing home, a hospital, in the workplace, at a day centre or educational establishment, in supported housing, in the street or in the vulnerable adult's own home.

Abuse is mistreatment by any other person or persons that violates a person's human and civil rights. The abuse can vary from treating someone with disrespect in a way, which significantly affects the person's quality of life, to causing actual physical suffering.

Forms of abuse include:

- Physical abuse such as hitting, pushing, pinching, shaking, misusing medication, scalding, hair pulling
- Sexual abuse such as forcing someone into unwanted sexual activity, being touched inappropriately, rape, sexual assault, or sexual acts to which the vulnerable adult has not or could not have consented, or to which they were pressurised into consenting
- Psychological or emotional abuse such as intimidation, being threatened, being ignored on purpose, humiliation, blaming, controlling, coercion, harassment, verbal abuse, being prevented from friends or family visiting or being prevented from receiving services or support.
- Financial abuse such as stealing someone's money or spending it on the wrong things, putting pressure on someone to make changes to their will or spend their money against their wishes, fraud or exploitation, pressure in connection with property, inheritance, misuse of property, possessions or benefits.
- Neglect such as ignoring medical or physical care needs, preventing access to health, social care or educational services, not caring for someone properly, not providing adequate food, putting them at risk.

Any of these forms of abuse can be either deliberate or be the result of ignorance, or lack of training, knowledge or understanding. It is often the case that a person is being abused in more than one way.

Abuse always falls into one of the five categories above but other forms of abuse can include:

- Modern Slavery, this encompasses slavery, human trafficking, forced labour and domestic servitude. Traffickers and slave masters use whatever means they have at their disposal to coerce, deceive and force individuals into a life of abuse, servitude and inhumane treatment
- Forced Marriage, Forced Marriage is defined as a marriage conducted without the valid consent of both parties, where one or both spouses do not (or, in the case of some Adults at Risk, cannot) consent to the marriage and duress is involved. Duress can include physical, psychological, financial, sexual and emotional pressure.

- Discrimination and Hate Crime may be features of any form of abuse of a vulnerable adult but can also be motivated because of their age, gender, disability, sexual orientation, religion, class, culture, language, race or ethnic origin.
- Institutional abuse, can occur in institutions as a result of regimes, routines, practices and behaviours that occur in services that Adults at Risk live in or use and which violate their human rights

Who might be causing the abuse?

The person who is responsible for the abuse is very often well known to the person abused and could be :

- a paid carer or volunteer
- a health worker, social care or other worker
- a relative, partner, friend or neighbour
- another resident or service user
- an occasional visitor or someone who is providing a service (such as a mobile hairdresser)
- people who deliberately exploit vulnerable people

What should I do if I am concerned about abuse or neglect?

If you or the person being abused are in immediate danger

You need to do something straight away to stop them or others being hurt. If you are a Careline Client then you can activate your alarm and ask the operator to contact the police. If not, you should ring 999 and tell the operator what is happening.

If you or the person being abused are not in immediate danger. Contact your local Social Services for help and advice
